About this specification

The Pearson Edexcel International Advanced Subsidiary in English Literature and the Pearson Edexcel International Advanced Level in English Literature are part of a suite of International Advanced Level qualifications offered by Pearson.

These qualifications are not accredited or regulated by any UK regulatory body.

Key features

This specification includes the following key features.

Structure

The Pearson Edexcel International Advanced Subsidiary in English Literature and the Pearson Edexcel International Advanced Level in English Literature are modular qualifications. The Advanced Subsidiary can be claimed on completion of the International Advanced Subsidiary (IAS) units.

The International Advanced Level can be claimed on completion of all the units (IAS and IA2 units).

Content

The content is relevant for international students as it covers up to date, relevant and engaging to an international audience using a combination of classic and international texts.

Assessment

100% externally assessed with exams in January and June.

Approach

These qualifications have independent learning and critical thinking skills incorporating synoptic assessment at International Advanced Level 2.

Specification updates

This specification is Issue 4 and is valid for first teaching from September 2015. If there are any significant changes to the specification, we will inform centres in writing. Changes will also be posted on our website.

For more information please visit qualifications.pearson.com

Using this specification

This specification gives teachers guidance and encourages effective delivery of these qualifications. The following information will help you get the most out of the content and guidance.

Compulsory content: as a minimum, all the bullet points in the content must be taught. The word 'including' in unit content specifies the detail of what must be covered.

Examples: throughout the unit content, we have included examples of what could be covered or what might support teaching and learning. It is important to note that examples are for illustrative purposes only and that centres can use other examples. We have included examples that are easily understood and recognised by international centres.

Unit assessments use a range of material and are not limited to the examples given. Teachers should deliver the qualification using a good range of examples to support the assessment of the unit content.

Assessments: use a range of material and are not limited to the examples given. Teachers should deliver these qualifications using a good range of examples to support the assessment of the content.

Depth and breadth of content: teachers should use the full range of content and all the Assessment Objectives (AO) given in Section B: Specification Overview.

Qualification aims and objectives

The aims and objectives of these qualifications are to enable students to:

- read widely and independently set texts and others that they have selected for themselves
- engage critically and creatively with a substantial body of texts and ways of responding to them
- develop and effectively apply their knowledge of literary analysis and evaluation
- explore the contexts of the texts they are reading and others' interpretations of them
- undertake independent and sustained studies to deepen their appreciation and understanding of English literature, including its changing traditions.

Qualification abbreviations used in this specification

The following abbreviations appear in this specification:

International Advanced Subsidiary – IAS

International A2 – IA2 (the additional content required for an IAL)

International Advanced Level – IAL.

Why choose Edexcel qualifications?

Pearson – the world’s largest education company

Edexcel academic qualifications are from Pearson, the UK’s largest awarding organisation. With over 3.4 million students studying our academic and vocational qualifications worldwide, we offer internationally recognised qualifications to schools, colleges and employers globally.

Pearson is recognised as the world’s largest education company, allowing us to drive innovation and provide comprehensive support for Edexcel students to acquire the knowledge and skills they need for progression in study, work and life.

A heritage you can trust

The background to Pearson becoming the UK’s largest awarding organisation began in 1836, when a royal charter gave the University of London its first powers to conduct exams and confer degrees on its students. With over 150 years of international education experience, Edexcel qualifications have a firm academic foundation, built on the traditions and rigour associated with Britain’s educational system.

To find out more about our Edexcel heritage please visit our website:
qualifications.pearson.com/en/about-us/about-pearson/our-history

Results you can trust

Pearson’s leading online marking technology has been shown to produce exceptionally reliable results, demonstrating that at every stage, Edexcel qualifications maintain the highest standards.

Developed to Pearson’s world-class qualifications standards

Pearson’s world-class standards mean that all Edexcel qualifications are developed to be rigorous, demanding, inclusive and empowering. We work collaboratively with a panel of educational thought-leaders and assessment experts to ensure that Edexcel qualifications are globally relevant, represent world-class best practice and maintain a consistent standard.

For more information on the world-class qualification process and principles please go to Appendix 2: Pearson World Class Qualification design principles or visit our website:

Why choose Pearson Edexcel International Advanced Subsidiary/Advanced Level qualifications in English Literature?

We have listened to feedback from all parts of the international school subject community, including a large number of teachers. We have made changes that will engage international learners and give them skills that will support progress to undergraduate study at an international higher education establishment, particularly (although not only) in the same subject area.

Key qualification features

- A choice of two drama texts, one pre-1900 and one post-1900.
- Study of a selection of post-2000 poems as well as a one post-2000 novel.
- Unseen questions on post-1900 poetry and one prose theme from a choice of Growing up, Colonisation and After, Science and Society and Women and Society.
- The study of one pre-1900 literary poetry movement.
- Study of a Shakespearean play from a choice of Hamlet, King Lear, Measure for Measure and The Taming of the Shrew.

Clear and straightforward question papers – our question papers are clear and accessible for students of all ability ranges. Our mark schemes are straightforward so that the assessment requirements are clear.

Broad and deep development of learners' skills – we designed the International Advanced Level qualifications to extend learners' knowledge by broadening and deepening skills, for example learners will:

- Develop their cognitive skills in problem solving and critical thinking.
- Broaden their communicative skills
- Learn to work independently and become more adaptable in different communication styles and in the information they need to work with and produce.

Progression – International Advanced Level qualifications enable successful progression to undergraduate course worldwide. Through our world-class qualification development process we have consulted with validated the appropriateness of these qualifications, including content, skills and assessment structure.

Our qualification sits within our wider subject offer for English. We also offer International Advanced Level English Language, Advanced Level English Literature, Advanced Level English Language and Advanced Level English Language and Literature.

More information can be found on our website (qualifications.pearson.com) on the Edexcel International Advanced Level pages.

Qualification at a glance

Qualification overview

Pearson Edexcel International Advanced Subsidiary in English Literature

This qualification consists of two externally-examined units.

The International Advanced Subsidiary is the first half of the International Advanced Level qualification and consists of two IAS units, Units 1 and 2. This qualification may be awarded as a discrete qualification or may contribute 50 per cent towards the International Advanced Level qualification.

Pearson Edexcel International Advanced Level in English Literature

This qualification consists of four externally-examined units.

The International Advanced Level consists of the two IAS units (Units 1 and 2) plus two IA2 units (Units 3 and 4). Students wishing to take the International Advanced Level must, therefore, complete all four units.

Course of study

The structure of these qualifications allows teachers to construct a course of study that can be taught and assessed as either:

- distinct modules of teaching and learning with related units of assessment taken at appropriate stages during the course; or
- a linear course assessed in its entirety at the end.

- Students must answer one essay question from a choice of two on their chosen prose texts from their chosen theme.
 - The essay questions will require students to compare the two prose texts and consider relevant contextual factors.
 - 30 marks, AO1, AO2, AO3 and AO4 are assessed.

3.3 Poetry

Learning outcomes

Students are required to:

- show knowledge and understanding of the function of key features in poetry
- show knowledge and understanding of a range of ways to read poetry, including reading for detail of how poets use and adapt language, form and structure in poems, responding critically and creatively
- communicate fluently, accurately and effectively their knowledge, understanding and critical evaluation of poetry
- identify and explore how attitudes and values are expressed in poetry
- use literary critical concepts and terminology with understanding and discrimination.
- make appropriate use of the conventions of writing in literary studies, referring accurately and appropriately to texts and sources.

What students need to learn

Students will study:

- how to apply the poetry learning from Unit 1 to unseen post-1900 poetry.

3.4 Prose

Learning outcomes

Students are required to:

- show knowledge and understanding of how key features operate in prose fiction texts
 - show knowledge and understanding of a range of ways to read prose texts, including reading for detail of how writers use and adapt language, form and structure in texts, responding critically and creatively
 - show knowledge and understanding of prose fiction texts and make connections and explore the relationships between two texts
 - show knowledge and understanding of the contexts in which prose texts have been written and understanding of how these contexts influence meaning
 - identify and explore how attitudes and values are expressed in prose texts
 - communicate fluently, accurately and effectively their knowledge, understanding and evaluation of prose texts
 - use literary critical concepts and terminology with understanding and discrimination
 - make appropriate use of the conventions of writing in literary studies, referring accurately and appropriately to texts and sources.

What students need to learn

Students will study:

- how to apply the prose fiction learning from Unit 1 in relation to two thematic prose fiction texts
- making connections between prose fiction texts thematically.

For information on the understanding of context please see Guidance on AO3 in the Assessment Information section.

Texts

Students must study two prose fiction texts chosen from one of the following four themes:

Theme 1: Growing Up

- The Color Purple, Alice Walker
- Great Expectations, Charles Dickens
- What Maisie Knew, Henry James

Theme 2: Colonisation and After

- Heart of Darkness, Joseph Conrad
- The Lonely Londoners, Samuel Selvon
- A Passage to India, E. M. Forster

Theme 3: Science and Society

- Frankenstein, Mary Shelley
- The Handmaid's Tale, Margaret Atwood
- Never Let Me Go, Kazuo Ishiguro

Theme 4: Women and Society

- Beloved, Toni Morrison
- Mrs Dalloway, Virginia Woolf
- Wuthering Heights, Emily Brontë

For further information on prescribed texts, please see Appendix 6.

Unit 4: Shakespeare and pre-1900 Poetry

IA2 compulsory unit

Externally assessed

4.1 Unit description

Students will explore one text by Shakespeare. They will explore the use of literary and dramatic devices and the shaping of meaning in their chosen text. Teaching and wider reading should address the significance and influence of contextual factors and engage with different interpretations of chosen text.

Students will also study poems from a specified poetry movement. They will use poetry already developed to further gain a deeper understanding of poetic style and meaning. Teaching and wider reading should address the significance and influence of contextual factors and engage with different interpretations of chosen poetry.

4.2 Assessment information

- First assessment: January 2017.
- The assessment is 2 hours.
- The assessment consists of two sections and is worth 50 marks.
- It is an open book examination.

Section A: Shakespeare

- Students must answer one essay question from a choice of two on their chosen text.
- The essay questions will give a statement that students must respond to and consider relevant contextual factors and different interpretations of the text.
- 25 marks, AO1, AO2, AO3 and AO5 are assessed.

Section B: pre-1900 Poetry

- Students must answer one essay question from a choice of two on their chosen poetry movement.
 - The essay questions will give a statement that students must respond to and consider relevant contextual factors and different interpretations of the text.
 - 30 marks, AO1, AO2, AO3 and AO5 are assessed.

4.3 Shakespeare

Learning outcomes

Students are required to:

- show knowledge and understanding of how Shakespeare uses dramatic forms to shape meaning in drama texts and evoke responses in audiences
- show knowledge and understanding of a range of ways to read and experience drama texts, responding critically and creatively
- show knowledge and understanding of the contexts in which drama texts have been written and understanding of how these contexts influence meaning
- respond to and evaluate drama texts, drawing on their understanding of interpretations by different audiences/readers
- identify and explore how attitudes and values are expressed in drama texts
- communicate fluently, accurately and effectively their knowledge, understanding and evaluation of drama texts
- use literary critical concepts and terminology with understanding and discrimination
- make appropriate use of the conventions of writing in literary studies, referring accurately and appropriately to texts and sources.

For further information on context and different interpretations, please see Guidance on understanding context (AO3) and Guidance on understanding different interpretation (AO5) in the Assessment Information section.

What students need to learn

Students will study:

- how to apply the drama learning from Unit 2 to a Shakespeare text
- the significance and influence of contexts
- ways to interpret the text independently in response to interpretations by different audiences/readers.

Texts

One Shakespeare drama chosen from:

- Hamlet
 - King Lear
 - Measure for Measure
 - The Taming of the Shrew.

4.4 Poetry

Learning outcomes

Students are required to:

- show knowledge and understanding of the function of key features in poetry
- show knowledge and understanding of a range of ways to read poetry, including reading for detail of how writers use and adapt language, form and structure in poems, responding critically and creatively
- show knowledge and understanding of the contexts in which poetry has been written and understanding of how these contexts influence meaning
- communicate fluently, accurately and effectively their knowledge, understanding and critical evaluation of poetry
- identify and explore how attitudes and values are expressed in poetry
- use literary critical concepts and terminology with understanding and discrimination
- make appropriate use of the conventions of writing in literary studies, referring accurately and appropriately to texts and sources.

For further information on context and different interpretations, please see Guidance on understanding context (AO3) and Guidance on understanding different interpretation (AO5) in the Assessment Information section.

What students need to learn

Students will study:

- to apply the poetry learning from Unit 2 to a poetry collection from a specified poetry movement
- the significance and influence of contexts
- ways to interpret the text independently in response to interpretations by different audiences.

Texts

One specified collection of pre-1900 poems from one literary movement – the prescribed literary movements are:

- Metaphysical Poets: prescribed poems from Metaphysical Poetry, Editor Colin Burrow, (Penguin, 2006)
- The Victorians: prescribed poems from The Oxford Book of Victorian Verse, Editor Christopher Ricks, (OUP, 2008)
- The Romantics: prescribed poems from English Romantic Verse, Editor David Wright, (Penguin Classics, 1973).

For details of the prescribed poems for each specified collection please see Appendix 6.

Assessment information

Assessment requirements

The Pearson Edexcel International Advanced Subsidiary in English Literature consists of two externally-examined units.

The Pearson Edexcel International Advanced Level in English Literature consists of four externally-examined units.

Students must complete all assessments.

Please see the Assessment availability and first award section for information on when the assessment for each unit will be available from.

Guidance on understanding context (AO3)

Context is information that informs the understanding of a text.

There are different kinds of context that affect a writer's work and a reader's response to it. Students should select relevant contextual material to illustrate and develop their response to the question. This could include:

- the writer's own life and individual situation, including the place and time of writing, only where these relate to the text
- the historical setting, time and location of the text
- social and cultural contexts, e.g. attitudes in society, expectations of different cultural groups
- the literary context of the text, e.g. literary movements or genres
- the contexts of reception – how a text has been reviewed, how it has been used, how it has been edited over time, how (in the case of a play) it has been staged, how film directors have adapted a printed text for the cinema, and how readers and literary critics have arrived at alternative interpretations.

Guidance on understanding different interpretations (AO5)

The statements given in each question which covers this AO is an invitation for candidates to engage in demonstrating an understanding that there are different ways to interpret texts.

Students may also access this AO by using ideas from their wider critical reading or from debate and discussion in class or performances they have seen or viewed.

Administration and general information

Entries, resitting of units

Entries

Details of how to enter students for the examinations for these qualifications can be found in our International Information Manual. A copy is made available to all examinations officers and is available on our website, qualifications.pearson.com.

Resitting of units

Students can resit any unit irrespective of whether the qualification is to be cashed in. If a student resits a unit more than once, only the better of the two most recent attempts of that unit will be available for aggregation to a qualification grade. Please refer to the Entry, Aggregation and Certification document on our website: qualifications.pearson.com/IAL-entry-certification-procedures.

Access arrangements, reasonable adjustments, special consideration and malpractice

Equality and fairness are central to our work. Our equality policy requires all students to have equal opportunity to access our qualifications and assessments, and our qualifications to be awarded in a way that is fair to every student.

We are committed to making sure that:

- students with a protected characteristic (as defined by the UK Equality Act 2010) are not, when they are undertaking one of our qualifications, disadvantaged in comparison to students who do not share that characteristic
- all students achieve the recognition they deserve for undertaking a qualification and that this achievement can be compared fairly to the achievement of their peers.

Language of assessment

Assessment of these qualifications will be available in English only. All student work must be in English.

We recommend that students are able to read and write in English at Level B2 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.

Access arrangements

Access arrangements are agreed before an assessment. They allow students with special educational needs, disabilities or temporary injuries to:

- access the assessment
- show what they know and can do without changing the demands of the assessment.

The intention behind an access arrangement is to meet the particular needs of an individual student with a disability without affecting the integrity of the assessment. Access arrangements are the principal way in which awarding bodies comply with the duty under the Equality Act 2010 to make 'reasonable adjustments'.

Access arrangements should always be processed at the start of the course. Students will then know what is available and have the access arrangement(s) in place for assessment.

Reasonable adjustments

The Equality Act 2010 requires an awarding organisation to make reasonable adjustments where a student with a disability would be at a substantial disadvantage in undertaking an assessment. The awarding organisation is required to take reasonable steps to overcome that disadvantage.

A reasonable adjustment for a particular student may be unique to that individual and therefore might not be in the list of available access arrangements.

Whether an adjustment will be considered reasonable will depend on a number of factors, including:

- the needs of the student with the disability
- the effectiveness of the adjustment
- the cost of the adjustment; and
- the likely impact of the adjustment on the student with the disability and other students.

An adjustment will not be approved if it involves unreasonable costs to the awarding organisation, timeframes or affects the security or integrity of the assessment. This is because the adjustment is not 'reasonable'.

Special consideration

Special consideration is a post-examination adjustment to a student's mark or grade to reflect temporary injury, illness or other indisposition at the time of the examination/assessment, which has had, or is reasonably likely to have had, a material effect on a candidate's ability to take an assessment or demonstrate their level of attainment in an assessment.

Further information

Please see our website for further information about how to apply for access arrangements and special consideration.

For further information about access arrangements, reasonable adjustments and special consideration please refer to the JCQ website: www.jcq.org.uk.

Candidate malpractice

Candidate malpractice refers to any act by a candidate that compromises or seeks to compromise the process of assessment or which undermines the integrity of the qualifications or the validity of results/certificates.

Candidate malpractice in examinations must be reported to Pearson using a JCQ Form M1 (available at www.jcq.org.uk/exams-office/malpractice). The form can be emailed to pqsmalpractice@pearson.com or posted to: Investigations Team, Pearson, 190 High Holborn, London, WC1V 7BH. Please provide as much information and supporting documentation as possible. Note that the final decision regarding appropriate sanctions lies with Pearson.

Failure to report malpractice constitutes staff or centre malpractice.

Staff/centre malpractice

Staff and centre malpractice includes both deliberate malpractice and maladministration of our qualifications. As with candidate malpractice, staff and centre malpractice is any act that compromises or seeks to compromise the process of assessment or which undermines the integrity of the qualifications or the validity of results/certificates.

All cases of suspected staff malpractice and maladministration must be reported immediately, before any investigation is undertaken by the centre, to Pearson on a JCQ Form M2(a) (available at www.jcq.org.uk/exams-office/malpractice).

The form, supporting documentation and as much information as possible can be emailed to pqsmalpractice@pearson.com or posted to: Investigations Team, Pearson, 190 High Holborn, London, WC1V 7BH. Note that the final decision regarding appropriate sanctions lies with Pearson.

Failure to report malpractice itself constitutes malpractice.

More-detailed guidance on malpractice can be found in the latest version of the document JCQ General and vocational qualifications Suspected Malpractice in Examinations and Assessments, available at www.jcq.org.uk/exams-office/malpractice.

Awarding and reporting

The Pearson Edexcel International Advanced Subsidiary in English Literature will be graded on a five-grade scale from A to E. The Pearson Edexcel International Advanced Level in English Literature will be graded on a six-point scale A* to E. Individual unit results will be reported. Only Units 1 and 2 will contribute to the International Advanced Subsidiary grade. All four units will contribute to the International Advanced Level grade.

The first certification opportunity for the Pearson Edexcel International Advanced Subsidiary in English Literature will be in August 2016. The first certification opportunity for the Pearson Edexcel International Advanced Level in English Literature will be in August 2017. A pass in an International Advanced Subsidiary subject is indicated by one of the five grades A, B, C, D, E, of which grade A is the highest and grade E the lowest. A pass in an International Advanced Level subject is indicated by one of the six grades A*, A, B, C, D, E, of which grade A* is the highest and grade E the lowest. Students whose level of achievement is below the minimum judged by Pearson to be of sufficient standard to be recorded on a certificate will receive an unclassified U result.

Unit results

Students will receive a uniform mark between 0 and the maximum uniform mark for each unit.

The uniform marks at each grade threshold for each unit are:

Unit 1

Unit grade	Maximum uniform mark	A	B	C	D	E
	100	80	70	60	50	40

Unit 2

Unit grade	Maximum uniform mark	A	B	C	D	E
	100	80	70	60	50	40

Unit 3

Unit grade	Maximum uniform mark	A	B	C	D	E
	100	80	70	60	50	40

Unit 4

Unit grade	Maximum uniform mark	A	B	C	D	E
	100	80	70	60	50	40

Qualification results

The minimum uniform marks required for each grade:

International Advanced Subsidiary (cash-in code: XET01)

Qualification grade	Maximum uniform mark	A	B	C	D	E
	200	160	140	120	100	80

Students with a uniform mark in the range 0–79 will be Unclassified (U).

International Advanced Level (cash-in code: YET01)

Qualification grade	Maximum uniform mark	A	B	C	D	E
	400	320	280	240	200	160

Students with a uniform mark in the range 0–159 will be Unclassified (U).

To be awarded an A*, students will need to achieve an A for the International Advanced Level qualification (at least 320 uniform marks) and at least 90% of the total uniform mark available across the IA2 units combined (at least 180 uniform marks).

Student recruitment and progression

Pearson follows the JCQ policy concerning recruitment to our qualifications in that:

- they must be available to anyone who is capable of reaching the required standard
- they must be free from barriers that restrict access and progression
- equal opportunities exist for all students.

Prior learning and other requirements

There are no prior learning or other requirements for these qualifications.

Students who would benefit most from studying these qualifications are likely to have a Level 2 qualification such as a GCSE in English Literature.

Progression

Students can progress from these qualifications to:

- higher education courses such as degrees in English, English Literature, creative writing or in related subjects such as journalism, media, teaching, drama, history
- a wide range of careers directly related to English Literature, such as teacher, editor, writer, or in areas such as publishing, journalism, the media, advertising, marketing, public relations, arts administration, record offices, libraries, national and local government and the civil service.

Appendix 2: Pearson World Class Qualification design principles

Pearson’s World Class Qualification design principles mean that all Edexcel qualifications are developed to be rigorous, demanding, inclusive and empowering.

We work collaboratively to gain approval from an external panel of educational thought-leaders and assessment experts from across the globe. This is to ensure that Edexcel qualifications are globally relevant, represent world-class best practice in qualification and assessment design, maintain a consistent standard and support learner progression in today’s fast-changing world.

Pearson’s Expert Panel for World-Class Qualifications is chaired by Sir Michael Barber, a leading authority on education systems and reform. He is joined by a wide range of key influencers with expertise in education and employability.

"I’m excited to be in a position to work with the global leaders in curriculum and assessment to take a fresh look at what young people need to know and be able to do in the 21st century, and to consider how we can give them the opportunity to access that sort of education." Sir Michael Barber.

Endorsement from Pearson’s Expert Panel for World Class Qualifications for the International Advanced Subsidiary (IAS)/International Advanced Level (IAL) development process

December 2015

“We were chosen, either because of our expertise in the UK education system, or because of our experience in reforming qualifications in other systems around the world as diverse as Singapore, Hong Kong, Australia and a number of countries across Europe.

We have guided Pearson through what we judge to be a rigorous world class qualification development process that has included, where appropriate:

- extensive international comparability of subject content against the highest-performing jurisdictions in the world
- benchmarking assessments against UK and overseas providers to ensure that they are at the right level of demand
- establishing External Subject Advisory Groups, drawing on independent subject-specific expertise to challenge and validate our qualifications.

Importantly, we have worked to ensure that the content and learning is future oriented, and that the design has been guided by Pearson’s Efficacy Framework. This is a structured, evidenced process which means that learner outcomes have been at the heart of this development throughout.

We understand that ultimately it is excellent teaching that is the key factor to a learner’s success in education but as a result of our work as a panel we are confident that we have supported the development of Edexcel IAS and IAL qualifications that are outstanding for their coherence, thoroughness and attention to detail and can be regarded as representing world-class best practice.”

Appendix 3: Transferable skills

The need for transferable skills

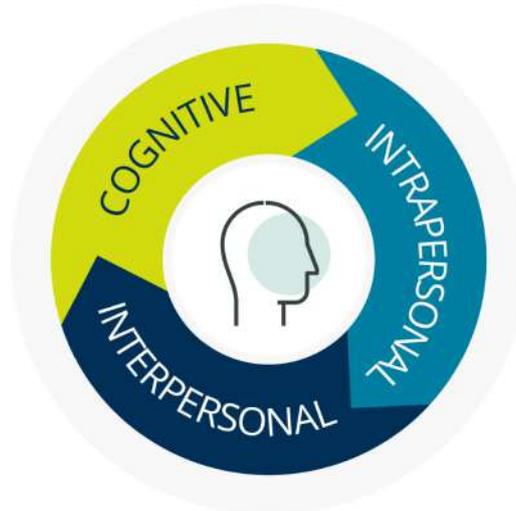

In recent years, higher-education institutions and employers have consistently flagged the need for students to develop a range of transferable skills to enable them to respond with confidence to the demands of undergraduate study and the world of work.

The Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) defines skills, or competencies, as 'the bundle of knowledge, attributes and capacities that can be learned and that enable individuals to successfully and consistently perform an activity or task and can be built upon and extended through learning.'^[1]

To support the design of our qualifications, the Pearson Research Team selected and evaluated seven global 21st-century skills frameworks. Following on from this process, we identified the National Research Council's (NRC) framework ^[2] as the most evidence-based and robust skills framework, and have used this as a basis for our adapted skills framework.

The framework includes cognitive, intrapersonal skills and interpersonal skills.

The NRC framework is included alongside literacy and numeracy skills.

The skills have been interpreted for this specification to ensure they are appropriate for the subject. All of the skills listed are evident or accessible in the teaching, learning and/or assessment of the qualifications. Some skills are directly assessed. Pearson materials will support you in identifying these skills and developing these skills in students.

The table overleaf sets out the framework and gives an indication of the skills that can be found in English Literature and indicates the interpretation of the skill in this area. A full subject interpretation of each skill, with mapping to show opportunities for student development is given on the subject pages of our website: qualifications.pearson.com

Appendix 4: Level 3 Extended Project qualification

What is the Extended Project?

The Extended Project is a standalone qualification that can be taken alongside International Advanced Level (IAL) qualifications. It supports the development of independent learning skills and helps to prepare students for their next step – whether that be higher education or employment. The qualification:

- is recognised by higher education for the skills it develops
- is worth half of an International Advanced Level (IAL) qualification at grades A*–E
- carries UCAS points for university entry.

The Extended Project encourages students to develop skills in the following areas: research, critical thinking, extended writing and project management. Students identify and agree a topic area of their choice for in-depth study (which may or may not be related to an IAL subject they are already studying), guided by their teacher.

Students can choose from one of four approaches to produce:

- a dissertation (for example an investigation based on predominately secondary research)
- an investigation/field study (for example a practical experiment)
- a performance (for example in music, drama or sport)
- an artefact (for example creating a sculpture in response to a client brief or solving an engineering problem).

The qualification is non-examination assessment based and students are assessed on the skills of managing, planning and evaluating their project. Students will research their topic, develop skills to review and evaluate the information, and then present the final outcome of their project.

The Extended Project has 120 guided learning hours (GLH) consisting of a 40-GLH taught element that includes teaching the technical skills (for example research skills) and an 80-GLH guided element that includes mentoring students through the project work. The qualification is 100% internally assessed and externally moderated.

How to link the Extended Project with English Literature

The Extended Project creates the opportunity to develop transferable skills for progression to higher education and to the workplace through the exploration of either an area of personal interest or a topic of interest from within the English Literature qualification content.

Through the Extended Project, students will develop skills that support their study of English Literature, including:

- conducting, organising and using research
- independent reading in the subject area
- planning, project management and time management
- collecting, handling and interpreting evidence
- evaluating arguments, including arguments in favour of alternative interpretations of evidence and evaluation of different interpretations
- critical thinking.

In the context of the Extended Project, critical thinking refers to the ability to identify and develop arguments for a point of view or hypothesis and to consider and respond to alternative arguments.

Types of Extended Project related to English Literature

Students may produce a dissertation on any topic that can be researched and argued, for example an aspect of English Literature such as representations of women, future and dystopian worlds, world literature.

A dissertation might involve an investigation such as:

- a thematic study across different literary texts
- a study of a particular genre over time
- an in-depth study of one writer.

The dissertation uses secondary research sources to provide a reasoned defence or a point of view, with consideration of counter-arguments.

An alternative might be an investigative project or field study involving the collection of data from primary research, for example:

- a study of the impact of reading on electronic devices versus traditional books
- a study of the impact of the web on text sales and high street bookshops.

Using the Extended Project to support breadth and depth

In the Extended Project, students are assessed on the quality of the work they produce and the skills they develop and demonstrate through completing this work. Students should demonstrate that they have extended themselves in some significant way beyond what they have been studying in English Literature. Students can demonstrate extension in one or more dimensions:

- deepening understanding – where a student explores a topic in greater depth than in the specification content. This could be an in-depth exploration of one aspect of the writer's style or theme
- broadening skills – where a student learns a new skill. This might be learning how to understand and interpret literary criticism and/or reviews to be used in their analysis
- widening perspectives – where the student's project spans different subjects. A student studying English Literature with politics may wish to research the impact of a particular government position on texts. A student studying English Literature with modern foreign languages may wish to look at a text in the original target language and investigate how translation affects meaning.

A wide range of information to support the delivery and assessment of the Extended Project, including the specification, teacher guidance for all aspects, an editable scheme of work and exemplars for all four approaches, can be found on our website.

Appendix 5: Glossary

Term	Definition
Assessment objectives	The requirements that students need to meet to succeed in the qualification. Each assessment objective has a unique focus, which is then targeted in examinations or coursework. Assessment objectives may be assessed individually or in combination.
External assessment	An examination that is held at the same time and place in a global region.
International Advanced Subsidiary	Abbreviated to IAS.
International Advanced Level	Abbreviated to IAL.
International A2 (IA2)	The additional content required for an IAL.
Linear	Linear qualifications have all assessments at the end of a course of study. It is not possible to take one assessment earlier in the course of study.
Modular	Modular qualifications contain units of assessment. These units can be taken during the course of study. The final qualification grade is worked out from the combined unit results.
Raw marks	Raw marks are the actual marks that students achieve when taking an assessment. When calculating an overall grade, raw marks often need to be converted so that it is possible to see the proportionate achievement of a student across all units of study.
Uniform Mark Scale (UMS)	Student actual marks (or raw marks) will be converted into a UMS mark so that it is possible to see the proportionate result of a student. Two units may each be worth 25% of a total qualification. The raw marks for each unit may differ, but the uniform mark will be the same.
Unit	A modular qualification will be divided into a number of units. Each unit will have its own assessment.

Appendix 6: Prescribed texts

Texts will be reviewed throughout the lifetime of the specification to ensure that all prescribed texts remain fit for purpose. In the event that a change is required, centres will be notified and a list of the appropriate alternative(s) will be posted on our website (<http://qualifications.pearson.com>).

Please note that while resources are checked at the time of publication, materials may be withdrawn from circulation at any time. A list of appropriate alternatives will be provided on our website (<http://qualifications.pearson.com>) in the event that a named edition goes out of print.

Drama and prose fiction texts

We have not prescribed specific editions of the named drama and prose fiction texts for this qualification. Centres may select text editions for drama and prose fiction that best suit their needs but must adhere to the following guidelines when selecting editions of texts for use in open book examination:

- editions that offer a paraphrase of the original text are not allowed, for example editions of plays that offer a modern 'translation' on the facing page
- editions of Shakespeare plays that will be used in the examination may not contain critical materials
- editions that offer study notes are not allowed.

Centres can source inexpensive editions such as Wordsworth Classics and Dover Thrift.

Doctor Faustus (Unit 2): please use the A text, for example the New Mermaids edition, ISBN 9780713673760.

Shakespeare editions (Unit 2 and Unit 3): there are Dover Thrift editions available for all the prescribed Shakespeare texts which are inexpensive and do not contain any critical material.

Centres should use their own judgement in sourcing an edition. If a chosen edition does have any critical material, then it must be made clear to the students that it would not be in their interests to spend time in the examination trying to use these materials to respond to a question.

Frankenstein (Unit 3): The 1831 is the most commonly used edition and Pearson recommends that this edition is used; however centres can use a different edition if they already have these available for student use. Both the 1818 and 1831 editions are available online.
