

5 April 2021

In February 2021 Pearson Edexcel, under instruction from the UK regulatory authorities, announced that it would not be running the May/June 2021 A-Level and IGCSE exam series. All UK-based exams, including International A-Levels and International GCSE exams will now be evaluated using predicted grades supplied by each exam centre. These predictions will then be moderated by the exam board before a final award is determined.
